FIRST MONTH

In New Year Has Been Great Trial.

A. B. C. Writes Many Interesting Things Concerning the Doings of the Saints.

St. Matthews, Jan. 29.—The first month of our New Year is passed, and glad we are to bid good-bye to such a trial as it has been, in various ways—cold and snow, mud and rain. Then settling our financial debts, carried over from last year, adding the present month's expenses, has appalled many of us, bringing to mind these lines of long ago:

"I haven't got no hankerin' to be a politician."

"I ain't got no ambition for tiddy affairs of State."

"I ain't inventin' anything that's going to bring me fame."

"Or looking for a place in the king of the game."

"I ain't got time to beezin' how to be a millionaire."

"I'm so very busy, I ain't got time to spare."

"I've got just one ambition, and it ain't workin' out complete."

"And that is, to be able once to justify both ends meet."

Lovely Surprise.

A lovely surprise party was given at the home of Mr. Emil Stutzenberger in honor of his twenty-fifth birthday. The following friends were present to make merry on the evening of January 29th: Misses Rosa Ochener, Onelda Nachand, Emma and Eleanor Rothachard, Fanny Winkler, Lena and Nettie Stutzenberger, Tessie and Augusta Schoening, Katie Westerman, Heles Schneider, Mary Butler, Messrs. Richard Johnson, James and Richard Butler, John Miller, Arthur and Willie Lausman, Irvin Thomas, Arthur and Carl Winkler, Everett and Charles Kennedy, Alfred Blatter, Carl Nachand, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stutzenberger, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kyser, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thomas. Refreshments were served and all wished him many returns of these pleasant birthdays.

Dwelling Place of Stork.

The stork (who dwells at St. Matthews) took flight through route 19 this month, leaving contributions in the most unexpected places, where he had not been for many years.

HATCH MORE STRONG CHICKS HOW? BUY THE BEST HATCHER.

LET US SHOW YOU.

Cyphers Standard Incubators and Brooders are far above competition in Hatching, in Construction, in Value and in Reliability. For that reason they are used upon more Experiment Stations; by more big poultry and duck plants, and by more fanciers than all other makes combined. The latest 1911 pattern.

Cyphers Incubators Hatch More Chicks You Can Raise More in Cyphers Brooders

These machines are practically automatic—they run themselves; they are self-ventilating, self-regulating, non-moisture. No need to worry with them at night. They run just as steadily without varying a degree while you are asleep as they do while you are awake. Don't buy a cheap, good for nothing machine that results in lost time, much worry and poor hatches. Buy the best—THE CYPHERS.

REPORT

Of Secretary Smock Very Interesting

What County Board of Health Has Found During the Past Year.

Dr. B. W. Smock, secretary of the Jefferson County Board of Health, has sent the Jeffersonian a copy of his annual report, from which we make some very interesting extracts. The functions of the Board are directed to the prevention rather than the cure of disease, and past records go to show that a great deal is being accomplished along this line.

Although the population has increased more than 25 per cent, the death rate has decreased 1.1 per cent. Dr. Smock says further: "The healthfulness of Jefferson county compares favorably with that of any other county in the State and I can even make it stronger and say that I am not overstating when I tell you that it is the best of any county in the whole State of Kentucky."

Births.

There were 695 births in Jefferson county outside the city in 1911, of which 89 were Negroes. Male, white; 205; female, 201; male, Negro, 47; female, 42. During 1910 there were only 660 births reported. This marked difference is attributed to the fact that the new vital statistic law did not go into effect until 1911, which requires that all deaths and births be reported to the local registrars. The births exceeded the deaths in 1911 by 231 cases.

Deaths.

The total number of deaths reported in Jefferson county for the first ten months of 1911 was 464, while under the old way of recording them there were only 170 reported. Of the 464 deaths, 371 were white and 93 black.

The number of deaths from certain causes are reported as follows: Tuberculosis, 73; other tuberculosis, 4; typhoid fever, 14; diphtheria, 2; measles, 2; whooping cough, 1; pneumonia, 96; diphtheria (under 1 year), 16; meningitis, 3; influenza, 4; peripneumonia, 1; cancer, 19; violence, 12; still birth (excluded), 13. Dr. Smock has much to say in regard to diseases that are prevalent, and how they may be prevented, and much of the information given by him will be reported later in these columns.

County Schools.

Dr. Smock has much to say in regard to the condition of our schools. He says: "There seems to be existing in the minds of the teachers prejudice against fresh air. None of the rooms are properly ventilated. In some instances the fault lies in improper heating. The majority of them are overcrowded." He attributes this bad state of affairs to the teachers, and says that a marked improvement could be made if they would look after the sweeping of the floors, ventilation, heating, etc.

Dr. Smock reports that water for many of the schools was found to be bad, but that the chairman of the division school boards was notified and in nearly every instance steps were taken to remedy conditions. "There is one exception," says Dr. Smock, "that I might mention—that of the public well at Jeffersontown." This well, however, is not used by the Jeffersontown school.

Dr. Smock says the outbuildings of the public schools were found to be filthy and a disgrace to a rich county like ours, and that there is no excuse for such a condition. He spoke of a more recent inspection when he found a number of schools with better sanitary conditions.

Dr. Smock speaks very highly of County School Superintendent Stivers and says the county is to be congratulated that they have him at the head of the schools with eight splendid gentlemen who compose the County Board of Education.

County Poor House.

Dr. Smock said the County Poor House was a county poor house, indeed, that the superintendent was doing all he could, but was handicapped by want of funds to manage properly the inmates of the institution. He has made recommendations for improvements and steps are now being taken to this end. A handsome new building will be erected when the Fiscal Court determines upon a suitable site. Dr. Smock said of the present superintendent: "From a recent inspection of the place, I feel that Jefferson county and Judge Weissinger are to be congratulated on the selection of Mr. Tucker for this particular position. He is making good."

"Dr. Smock has a great deal to say about the dairies and other things in the county, and we will publish more of his report later."

SEATONVILLE.

Many Social Gatherings During Past Week—Other Items Of Interest.

Seatonville, Jan. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Casey delightfully entertained on Sunday last at their beautiful home on Baxter avenue in honor of Miss Mammie Bridwell. Mr. and Mrs. Casey's guests were Miss Mammie Bridwell, Miss Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farmer, Messrs. Windel Smith, J. Wagner, Chester C. Smith and J. H. Wilhoite. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Casey's guests were entertained at six o'clock dinner by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farmer, following a theatre party to see "The Girl From Reno."

Enjoy Letters.

I want to say to Dr. Ridge correspondents that we enjoy your letters very much, and we feel you are enjoying perfect peace and quietude for we know the good people with whom you are sojourning. Come again. Will say to Seatonville correspondent, another good writer, we heard a nice compliment about you by one of the good ladies, a few miles east of our little town, so he real good and then I see you will tell you all about it.

Success With Chickens.

Some of the good women from this section are reporting much success with their chickens this cold weather, and we hope they may realize from same both profit and pleasure beyond their highest expectations, for the women are deserving of all the best things which this life affords.

What Has Become Of "Papa's Pet"?

I noticed a few weeks ago some of the correspondents of the good paper were wondering what had become of "Papa's pet." I, too, believe she has gone in one of those air ships. Hope she will return soon and give us a history of her trip.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sweeney and daughter, Miss Kemp, had as their visitors last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graves, of Clark Station, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell Bridwell and children of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bright, of Louisville. Mr. Windel Smith was seen in our town Sunday. What's the attraction, Windel?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradbury recently visited Mrs. Landrum and son, Louis Bradbury.

Mrs. William McMahon was the all-day guest of Mrs. E. Francis Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell Bridwell and son, Thomas, Jr., went to Louisville yesterday to spend the day with Mrs. R. R. Farmer, who recently moved to the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Pond spent one day last week in Louisville.

Quite a number from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Frances Hoike, in Jeffersontown, January 17.

Shocking Sounds.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50c at all drugists.

Country people coming to town on Sunday morning can get the Sunday Courier-Journal at Panell Bros.

PUBLIC SPIRIT

Necessary For Growth Of Any Town.

Our Middletown Correspondent Writes a Splendid Letter For Our Readers.

Middletown, Jan. 29.—A Commercial Club was organized here last week composed of fifty members for the improvement of the town. Some new enterprises are about to be launched. In order that a town or city may make a substantial growth it must have public enterprises, factories, so as to induce people to make their homes here. People will flock where there is employment. And let the men with money build homes for the people who are anxious to come. Our town should be simply one big family. Where there is a united pull for anything, its accomplishment is made easy. Envy, jealousy and hatred are things "displaced." Envy is a canker that knows at the heart and makes folks sour and unkind. Jealousy warps the intellect and makes us unfair in passing judgment. Hatred does not pay.

Help a Worth Cause.

Misses Hattie Weatherbee, Josephine Grunwald and Miss Nellie Weatherbee, three charming young ladies, will serve lunch and oyster soup at Mrs. Robert's store next Friday evening for the building fund of the Christian church. Give these young ladies a call and get a good supper. You will be helping a worthy cause along.

Pie Party.

There will be a pie party given by The Ladies of the Christian church Valentine evening at Masonic Hall, for the benefit of the building fund. Mysterious boxes and packages will be sold for 10 cents. If anyone wishes to donate a pie, cake or any article worth 10 cents for this good cause, it will be appreciated.

New Store House.

Work has begun on the large new store of Mrs. William Wood in the central part of town. It is to be one of the most beautiful and up-to-date stores in this vicinity. We are certainly on the edge of things. We now have a first-class Barber shop, too, where you can get a good shave.

Removes Meat Store.

Mr. William Oursler has moved his meat store from the place where he purchased from Mr. James Orr, who was in the same business near the electric depot. We wish Mr. Oursler success in his new place of business.

Mrs. M. P. Crask entertained in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Martin's birthday last Sunday, at her home on Twenty-second street.

Mrs. E. T. Mitchell entertained at dinner Wednesday for Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Arterburn, Mrs. Mason Gregg and little Miss Mae Gregg.

Mrs. Lawrence Cox entertained after services Sunday at dinner Rev. T. T. Finley, of Louisville, Miss Mammie Cole and Nelson Cole.

Mrs. E. T. Coleman entertained a party on last Thursday evening at Finch. The affair was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. George Schenck, Mrs. Hugh Mulken and Mr. Will Tharn.

There was quarterly meeting Saturday and Sunday at the Methodist church. Dr. F. M. Thomas, of Louisville, preached to a large audience both days.

The Women's Bible class of the Methodist church met with Mrs. L. P. Weatherbee Thursday afternoon. The good ladies of this class spent their time sewing. After the sewing was finished Mrs. Weatherbee served refreshments to the class.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Ben Swan last week and The Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur W. and Mr. Will Tharn.

Mr. William Butler, who has been very sick, is now glad to report improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, of Todd's Bluff, spent Thursday with her brother, Mr. Wm. Potts.

Rev. Rankin, of the Market Street Christian church, Louisville, preached at Masonic Hall Sunday evening and Rev. T. S. Tinsley Sunday morning. Mr. Tinsley will leave for Midway where he has accepted a call.

Miss Pearl Rookshy, our popular "shello exchange" young lady, who has been quite sick, is able to be back at her place again.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Roman were the guests of Mrs. L. P. Arterburn Sunday.

Mrs. Ida Yager, of Long Run, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Allen Poulter, last week.

Mr. H. Nelson Clore spent the week-end with his brother, Mr. J. Clore, of Brownsboro, who is quite ill. Mrs. John Rice and son, Walter, of Lakeland, were the guests of Mrs. G. A. Lee Saturday.

Miss Pearl North has been quite sick, but is convalescing.

Mrs. L. K. Brown, of Louisville, visited friends here last week. Mrs. N. Stroup, of Long Run, was the guest of Mrs. Eliza Yager last week.

Mrs. Lawrence Cox, Mrs. Mattie Blumer, Mrs. C. L. McDonald and Master Henry Golden, Frank spent Friday with Mr. Walter Jones, of Louisville, who has been quite ill.

Rag Carpet For Sale.

The Ladies' Aid of Bethany church, Valley Station, Ky., has thirty-eight yards of rag carpet for sale at 40 cents per yard. Communicate with Mrs. J. W. Knadler.

"STRAIGHT TALK"

The Importance of High-Class Advertising—A Word to the Readers.

BY C. A. H.

In the first place you know, and I know and everybody else knows, who knows The Jeffersonian and, by the way, you also know that our acquaintances are many that in its new columns The Jeffersonian comes as near as "the next one" to telling things straight.

The Jeffersonian must do this to live. Now, we also understand that our advertising columns must speak the Truth. Reader, do you not look for the truth in The Jeffersonian ads? Turn to them just now, read them, then when shopping call on the various merchants and let them "show you." Cut out the ads and present them to those whom they speak, if you like. The merchants are willing and so are we.

The advertising manager recently got some "tips" regarding some certain advertising matter, which may have been "rounded up." Why didn't he go after the business? Because it was the spot, then stop in and tell them that The Jeffersonian brought the message.

Note some of the Louisville advertisers in this edition, as well as the local merchants and business men, who show their appreciation of the county trade by "talking business" through their county paper. See what they have to say, then stop in and tell them that The Jeffersonian brought the message.

A BLUE MARK

here indicates that your subscription to The Jeffersonian has expired and paper will stop after you with a remittance before February 1.

We have endeavored to give you a county paper worthy of your support, and appreciate the assistance you have rendered during the past. Look over our forty-eight columns at home news today, and if you think The Jeffersonian deserves the patronage of citizens of Jefferson county, send us a dollar bill, together with your name and address, by return mail and do not miss an issue of the best county paper in the State. We do not want to lose one member of our large "family" of subscribers. A dollar spent for your home paper will go a long way toward the development of your home country. Address The Jeffersonian, Jeffersontown, Ky.

A GOOD WORD FOR A GOOD TOWN.

Strangers and former residents that make a visit to Jeffersontown always have an encouraging word to say concerning the progress made by our lovely little town. Now, let the present residents add to this their praise and approval and the rapid growth will continue. Remember, that the fellow who "kicks" on his town or his fellow-citizens has made a failure in life or has been so mean the people will have nothing to do with him, and that is the reason he is "sore." Don't forget and get in a class with such "cattle."

THE COUNTY UNIT BILL ASSURED.

Since the county unit bill has been voted upon favorably in both houses of the Kentucky Legislature, it is an assured fact that it will be made into a law. The legality of the bill has been questioned because of its unfairness, but since the Court of Appeals has decided in favor of it that settles all argument in this regard.

Those on the side of the whisky and beer interests claim that the bill is unfair because the bill does not work the same both ways. For instance, if a county votes dry, the whole county shall be dry, but if it votes wet, then the whole county shall not be wet, but only the precincts that are so. In other words, the county as a whole may vote liquor out of every precinct in the county, but cannot vote liquor in every precinct.

The Jeffersonian is in favor of a county unit upon this question—and every other question where the people of the county are concerned—but we do not believe in taking an unfair advantage of anybody or anything. We believe in giving every one the devil his due.

In holy writ we find this: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." Under the proposed county unit liquor law, we are not doing this.

CLARENCE E. WOODS GOES TO FLORIDA.

It is with regret that the members of the Kentucky Press Association and his many friends all over the State are compelled to give up Mr. Clarence E. Woods, who will leave Richmond, Ky., February 1st for Deland, Fla. Mr. Woods has accepted a position as editor and manager of The Supplement, a weekly paper published at Deland. He will also move the offices of the Delta, a fraternal paper of which he is editor and grand recorder.

Mr. Woods is a prince of good fellows and an active worker for the State's best interests, and his leaving will be a great loss. While we regret to see him go, we wish him and his lovely daughter, Miss Mamie, the best that this life bestows, with the hope, however, that it may prove "too hot" for them in Florida and that they will return to their "old Kentucky home."

REPORT OF DR. B. W. SMOCK.

The Jeffersonian publishes elsewhere in this issue extracts from the report of Dr. B. W. Smock, secretary of the Jefferson County Board of Health, which will prove very interesting to citizens who are looking toward the improvement of conditions along sanitary and healthful lines. Dr. Smock deserves much credit for the faithfulness he has shown. His work has already resulted in much good, and if the suggestions that he makes are carried out a lasting benefit may be derived by the people. He shows no favoritism when it comes to doing his duty, and he has given some startling facts in connection with our schools and other public institutions. His report is very interesting reading, and should make the citizens of the county "sit up and take notice."

OLD CONFEDS

Companionship For Years Broken—Death Takes One; Car Hits Another.

Robert F. Peek, sixty-eight years old, an ex-Confederate soldier and in inmate of the Confederate Home at Fern Creek, died Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock of cancer, a few minutes before his death a west-bound Louisville and Eastern interurban car, when near Muir Station, struck and fatally injured John O'Neal, seventy years old, an inmate of the home. Peek and O'Neal became acquainted during the war and have been friends ever since. Mr. O'Neal died from his injuries Monday.

Mr. Peek was born in Union, S. C., December 24, 1843, and entered the Confederate army January 9, 1861. He served with distinction until he was mustered out in May, 1865. He later moved to Shelby county, Ky., and was received at the Confederate Home December 2, 1911. He is survived by his widow and a son, Thomas Peek, of Lawrenceburg.

When Mr. O'Neal was struck by the car he was crossing the track at Muir Station. He is partially deaf and did not hear the car approaching. He was taken at once to the Home, where he was attended by Dr. Robert D. Pryor, who was sent for immediately.

Mr. O'Neal came to the Confederate Home November 10, 1910. He was born in Carroll county, Ky., in June, 1843, and entered the Confederate service in September, 1862, serving throughout the war in Company F, Fourth Kentucky Cavalry. He came to the Home from Eagle Station, Ky. He has a niece, Miss Lorena Craig, who lives at Eagle Station.

Morning, Noon and Night,

When in Louisville think of the Blue Grass Dairy Lunch, opposite interurban station, 323, north pole side and sunny side. W. Jefferson, four doors from 4th avenue. They serve coffee like your mother used to make; butter-milk slick and good, vegetable macaroni, spaghetti, oyster dressing, fish, Seelbach sausage, rural beef sandwich 5 cent portion; chicken dumplings, spare rib and lamb stew with green peas, 10 cent portion; hot from steam table.

UNITED SONS

Of Confederate Veterans Complete Plans For Reunion At Macon

May 6-9

Reunion plans of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans are complete, and the order will hold the largest convention in its history in Macon, May 6-8-9. The Sons will be on hand to greet their fathers when the latter assemble there on May 7th for their annual three-day reunion.

W. G. Fritchard, of Charleston, S. C., Commander-in-Chief, and Nathan Bedford Forrest, of Memphis, Tennessee, Adjutant-General of the Sons, visited this city recently and discussed with members of Thomas-Hardeston Camp and many schemes on foot for making the reunion a success. Mr. Forrest will tour the Southern States in the interest of the Sons and will establish as many camps as possible. He asks that every Son of Confederate Veteran residing in a town or city which is without a camp, write him at Memphis. Steps will be taken to organize the Sons in such places and Mr. Forrest will give the matter his personal attention.

The Sons propose to secure the war record of every Confederate Veteran, now living, and place it in the archives of the organization's headquarters at Memphis. They are also collecting valuable data bearing on the war which will be furnished an historian and upon which a history of the great conflict will be based and do full justice to the South's heroes. Mr. Forrest asks the cooperation of every son. The adjutant-general will first visit Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina and will then swing into the other Southern States.

Frank G. Norflet, commander of the Florida Sons, arrived in Macon from his home in Newberry, yesterday. Mr. Norflet promised to bring a large number of delegates to the reunion and declares he will help pay the expenses of any member who is unable to defray the cost of the trip.

A Prominent New York Politician Near Death

Mon. N. Y. Six Times a Member of the Assembly, Tells of Narrow Escape.

"About fifteen years ago I was taken with rheumatism which affected my heart production. I was called a 'valuable' trouble. The doctor told me I would never work again. I was told to take a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy. I continued to take it and while I realized my heart was damaged I could not expect a permanent cure, for fifteen years I worked every day, not withstanding I had told him I would never work again. In July, 1911, I was taken with rheumatism again, and it went to my heart as before. I again took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy with very satisfactory results, and have not missed a day at business or in the legislature since January, 1912. Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has saved my life and heart cannot recommend it too highly."

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

CLEVER WOODPECKERS.

Methods of These Wise Birds in Securing a Supply of Food and End Arguments.

Many birds show very great intelligence, but the wisdom of the woodpecker is certainly well worth careful study. Some persons are of the opinion that reason is no more than keen instinct, but there is a difference when we come to study some of the habits of a few of the more intelligent birds.

The woodpeckers that inhabit some of the western woodpeckers, and especially in sections of California, show a wonderful reasoning power. They actually plan for months ahead for what they consider a very delicate morsel of food. They provide certain food for a season when that particular kind is very scarce, and they make the work of securing it quite easy too.

While acorns are falling in the autumn months the woodpeckers climb all over the trunks of trees and peck hundreds of small holes in the wood. They carry acorns to these cavities and in some manner round or push them into the holes they have made, with the point of the acorn in the hole, leaving exposed the larger end of the acorn.

Months after, when winter has passed and the spring has come, these woodpeckers return to the scene of their autumn labors, and there in each acorn they find a nice plump worm feeding on the kernel of the acorns they had placed in the holes in the trees. The birds fit from one acorn to another, peck open the shell and extract the delicious morsel of food. The birds evidently knew the worms would be there.

Men who have watched the work of these birds while placing the acorns in the holes they made in the trunks of trees declare the birds will carefully examine an acorn, and if it is found to be one that promises worm life in the months to follow it is carried to the cavities and deposited, but if the acorn is a perfectly sound one the birds will discard it and pick up another.

Most acorns, like chestnuts, are polluted with a germ in the earlier stages of the nut's life, and this germ hatches out a worm in the very flesh of the nut and the meat is food for the worm.

It is very evident the smart woodpeckers know all this, and much more, and they simply reason that it would be wise to secure a plentiful supply, and this is the reason they are so busy pecking the trees full of holes. Each hole will contain an acorn, and each acorn will contain a worm.

It is said the food supply of these birds would be cut off at the spring season if they did not resort to this method of storing away a good supply of meat for that season. —Philadelphia North American.

The Worm in the Chestnut.

A physician explains how the worm gets into the chestnut. When the nut is still green an insect comes along and, hunting a warm place in which to have its eggs hatched, lights upon the green chestnut and stings it. At the same time it deposits some of its eggs in the opening thus made. The chestnut begins to ripen, and at the same time the eggs are hatching. The insect selects chestnuts as a place for depositing its eggs as being the best adapted place by instinct. The dewy matter in the nut turns to sugar, and sugar attracts carbon, which produces heat.

Needed Time to Settle.

Landlord (to tenant)—Good morning, sir. Fine day, sir. Just called round to see if it would be convenient to settle your quarter's rent.

"Do you know, landlord, that none of the doors in this house will shut?"

"New house, sir. New house, you know, takes time to settle."

"Ah, then, there's a pair of us. I'm a new tenant. It takes time for me to settle, too. Good morning. Call again."

Hardly a Compliment.

"Some of your guests," said the cynical friend, "make me think of a mathematical marvel I once knew."

"In what way?"

"He would pose offhand of any problem you gave him. Nobody in the crowd was able to say whether he got the right answer, and it really didn't seem to make much difference anyhow." —Washington Star.

Forgot Himself.

Mrs. Henpeck—We've bin married twenty years today, Hiram (with a sigh)—Yes, for twenty years we've fought—

Mrs. Henpeck (sighing)—What? You old wretch!

Hiram (quickly)—Life's battles together, Mirandy.—Judge.

GESTURES IN CUBA.

How Natives Salute Friends, Call Cabs and a Supply of Food and End Arguments.

The man just back from Cuba raised his right hand hat high and wiggled his fingers when he and a friend passed a mutual acquaintance.

"What's the matter with your nerves, Jim?" asked his friend, who was a friend of standing enough to warrant such a question. "Those Havana cigars been shaking your steady hand?"

"No, to both questions," replied the friend from Havana. "If you are referring to the wiggle of my well shaped fingers I will set your mind at rest at once. It is the Cuban form of salutation. They call it do it in Cuba, from the president to the man who can't raise the necessary price of a lottery ticket. To them it means the same as our formal nod or hat dodging."

"The study of gestures would be interesting. Damn there you run across some funny ones. They have gestures for everything. For instance, you wish to hail a cabman. Here, of course, you might raise your hand and beckon to him. In Havana you could do that all night and only get an empty stare. They wouldn't understand. Their summons for a cab is to crook the arm with the elbow rather near the body. The hand and fingers are held horizontally, palm down. This is not all. To get results the forearm must be moved forward and backward with the elbow steady, the thumb leaving the fingers during the motion somewhat with the movement of a fish's mouth opening and closing.

"There is no surer way of stopping an argument than by doubling your fist and extending your forefinger as nearly horizontally as possible. Then the hand is moved as you would wag your head. The token is a period, the complete finish of any conversation, business transaction or whatever is under consideration." —Chicago News.

How Sparks Are Formed.

Sparks are formed by the expansion, under the action of heat, of air contained in the minute cells of wood, coal or other burning substance and also by the evolution of gas in the same cells. When the elastic force of the imprisoned gas or air is greater than the tenacity of the material can hold in check, then the small cells or cavities burst and the flying splinters rise as sparks. A sharp crack commonly accompanies the explosion and continues as hundreds of these cells burst in rapid succession. The quick flight of these burning particles acts as a fan to increase the flame, and when the substance burns so far that no more flame is formed the remaining carbon ash is kept in a state of incandescence by the draft of air. When all the carbon has been consumed the spark dies out, as is evident if we watch a falling spark on a dark night.

Waked Him Up.

In a rural district of Farnshire a young plowman once went courting on a Saturday night. In vain he racked his brain for some interesting topic. He could call up no subject at all suitable for the occasion—and for two long hours he sat on in silent despair.

The girl herself was equally silent. She, no doubt, remembered the teaching of the old Scotch song, "Men must be the first to speak," and she sat patiently regarding him with demure surprise.

At last John suddenly exclaimed: "Jenny, there's a feather on yer apron."

Where He Missed It.

"Ah," he said, as they were exploring among the rocks back of the hotel, "here is 'Lovers' lane.' Let's go down."

"That deep place there, where it is so dark, with the steep, rocky sides?"

"Yes. Come on."

"I'm afraid you would kiss me if we were down there alone together."

"No, honest!"

"Well, then, we may as well remain up here." —Chicago Record-Herald.

Familiar Proverbs.

"It is a wise child that knows his own father," is from the Odyssey; "saying of Hecuba: 'Set a thief to catch a thief,' is of Cato's coinage; 'One swallow doesn't make a summer,' is cited by Plato as already proverbial, as was 'His bark is worse than his bite,' when Quintus Curtius wrote it down.

Sergeant McGlothlin is well known to many Jeffersonian readers, having been born and raised to early manhood in the vicinity of Hikes Point. He is one more of our boys who has chosen the service as his field, having enlisted at Louisville in 1903, since which time he has devoted his life to that work. Mr. McGlothlin is now a member of the U. S. Staff, 4th U. S. Field Artillery, which organization enjoys the distinction of being the best artillery regiment in the service.

Her Father's Child.

The six-year-old daughter of a well known evangelistic preacher was playing on the sidewalk one day when a shabbily dressed and downcast man approached her father's house.

Halting at the foot of the steps, he looked at her, and in a weary voice—the voice of an unsuccessful book agent—he asked if her father might be found in his study.

"He isn't home," said the little girl, drawing close to him and giggling up into the tired face. "But he'll be home pretty soon. You go into the house, you poor, perishing soul, and mother'll look after you till he comes."—Youth's Companion.

Origin of Dunning.

During the reign of Henry VIII there lived in Lincoln, England, a famous ballad named Joe Dunning. Joseph was very clever in the management of his business and so detested in annoying those who refused the payment of an account with which he had been intrusted that "to get Dun on him" or "to Dun him" became common advice to the owner of a bad debt. To this personage we owe what to not a few people is the most disagreeable word in the language.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Middletown Commercial Club

Working on Proposition—Big Meeting Feb. 15.

The Middletown Commercial Club had an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night. The principal subject discussed was fire protection for the town. A committee was named to solicit subscriptions toward buying a chemical engine, ladders, etc., and enough promises have already been secured to insure the purchase of the apparatus. A volunteer fire department will be organized, and steps taken to have every thing in working order in a short time.

The next meeting of the Club will be in the Masonic Hall Thursday night, February 15, when several prominent men of Louisville, including the secretary of the Louisville Commercial Club, will be asked to come out and deliver addresses. Representatives of other Commercial clubs will also be present. Improvements for the community at large will be discussed and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Seatonville Correspondent Has Something to Say On Subject—A Good Letter.

Seatonville, Jan. 29.—January of 1912 will, ere this goes to press, be one of the past, so far as time goes, but will linger in the memory of the most of us for some time, especially those who met with losses, such as crops, fruits, potatoes, etc. February is here, which is frequently disagreeable than any month during the year, but hope this will be the exception. Our last new moon came about 5 o'clock on Friday morning, January 19. So far we have had more pleasant weather than some of our old people expect, especially our much-loved old friend and neighbor, Mr. Will Elginworth, who warned our doctor to be on the lookout and have two overcoats and two pairs of overshoes ready for changing at that hour, as we would surely have bitter weather.

Perhaps the full moon will reach the climax, but we hope for better times, and while on this point, will draw a line concerning the poor of the cities who suffered so much during the month of January. Do not wish to dwell at length, but just notice one case. That of the Levy firm furnishing suits to five hundred men and boys, and suggesting of course, the boys were not children and the men not boys, and suppose, of course, some of them were not physically disabled so they could not work. If so, they would have been in hospitals, almshouses or infirmaries, and if they had been able to work and been in right places during cropping season of last year and exerted themselves as working people have to do and stayed with their work this winter as prudent farmers do, they would have had food, raiment and fire. We have no harm to say to city people—have some warm friends and kindred in the cities, but the cruel supposition that the intellect of the world hinges in the cities—but it seems the city end of life is getting too heavy for the country's good. I know there is enough uncultivated land in Jefferson county to make good homes and living for those five hundred men and boys.

We, of course, realize that country life has not the charms of city life, but each has its own life, with comfortable homes, good clothes and food and hominy, a better life than to tramp around the cities, depending on the mercy of other people. The more land we have inhabited by good people the more producers we have, as well as consumers, more churches, more schools and good roads; in short, more of everything that helps to build up our country, and building the country is actually building the city. But country life is not as fascinating to some people as city life, and as long as they are fed and clothed by the good people they will stay in the cities and let the country go to ruin in weeks. Please remember, if I have said too much, I mean good. So much could be said along this line that I have not time nor space to do the subject justice.

Chicken Pox.

Chicken pox is still in our midst. Master Ernest Tinnell has it now. It is a mild form and we are glad the little folks are not much sick with it.

Popular Girl Weds.

Our friend, Miss Nina Brower, of Louisville, who visits friends in this neighborhood occasionally, was married Monday, January 29, to Mr. M. Cohen, and left immediately for Cincinnati, Ohio, where Mr. Cohen will engage in business. We bade Miss Nina good-bye with a heavy heart. She certainly is a sweet girl and richly deserves a good, true husband and we wish for her every happiness.

Mrs. Charlie Mills, of Fairfield, Ill., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hefley visited their parents near Elk Creek last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Leveda Bogard, the popular Fairmont teacher, visited her uncle, Dr. J. W. Turner, and wife from Friday till Sunday.

Eddie Funk, eldest son of Mr. Joe Funk, is attending school at Bryant & Stratton Business College, in Louisville, and Charlie Myers, son of Mr. Henry Myers, will enter the same school February 1st.

Miss Ethel Mills spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Leveda

Bogard at Mr. Carroll Smith's. Had a most delightful visit there and by special invitation the young ladies had delightful luncheon with Mrs. George Long on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. John Phillips and wife spent Monday with Mrs. Frank Jean.

Dr. John M. Jean made a flying visit to this neighborhood last Saturday afternoon and spent the night with his mother and brother, Frank, and family, and they, with Mr. E. L. Jorgensen and Mrs. Charlie Mills, dined with Mr. K. S. Mills on Sunday. He returned to his home near Lexington on a late train Sunday evening.

Mrs. Thomas Bridwell, who lives in this neighborhood for years but now lives with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. McKinley, near Elk Creek, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Miss Myrtle Johnson spent last Saturday in Louisville.

Mr. Tom Bishop and family spent last Sunday with his father and mother.

Mrs. Jim Cook and mother-in-law spent last Sunday with the former's father, Mr. Tom Bishop, and family.

Mrs. Charlie Mills and Mrs. Frank Jean spent Tuesday with Mr. Robert Johnson and family.

Miss Mayne Bridwell spent several days in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. Roy Farmer.

JAMES TRIGG

One of the Most Prominent Citizens of Jefferson County Dies at Age of 95.

On Friday morning, Jan. 26, at half-past seven o'clock at his residence at Prospect, James Trigg, the oldest and one of the best known citizens of Jefferson county, breathed his last.

Mr. Trigg had been in poor health for quite a while, but had been confined to his bed for only about six weeks. He was born in Oldham county on November 17th, 1816, and was at the time of his death 95 years, 2 months and 9 days old.

He had been living in the house where he died for nearly half a century, and had always been a prominent part in the affairs of Oldham and Jefferson counties.

He was instrumental in having built the Louisville, Harrods Creek & Westport Railroad (now the Prospect electric line) built one was also one time its president; he was also for many years the president of what is now known as the River Road Turnpike. He had been from the time it was erected one of the leading members and officers of the Prospect Church.

Mr. Trigg had been married twice, his first wife being Miss Mary Henshaw, of Oldham county, and his second being Miss Cordelia Clore, of Prospect, who survives him. By his first wife he had three children, only one of whom, Mrs. E. H. Kemp, of Prospect, survives him. He leaves several grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

His funeral was conducted at the Prospect church in church on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. M. C. Karkewicz, of Louisville, and notwithstanding the inclement weather the church was crowded by those who had always admired him for his honesty and integrity. The interment took place in the family lot in Cave Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. N. W. Reynolds, J. W. Mount, A. T. Peacock, F. S. Harboure, G. S. Dick and H. F. Hartsfield.

The jumping jack, the candy cane, the bugle and the hobbyhorse—I'd think they would be with you And acronful with deep remorse Because they did not steal away And in his equal great stay.

The boy who has no Santa Claus, Oh, sadder far his sorrow is Than all our grownups were, Because We have no wishes such as his. The useless years of childhood, Oh, We cannot feel we cannot lose!

Oh, little Johnny Leroy Boy, I'm sad and sorry for you—! You shouldn't miss the perfect joy Of Christmas, for the years are slow. If I'd the making of the boys, I'd give each boy a Santa Claus.

Doubled Expense. "He does an awful lot of kicking about the expense of Christmas presents. He yells twice as much as any other man in the office." "Perhaps that is because he is leading a double life."

One Is Enough. Christmas comes but once a year, It is true, but it takes three days to recover from its effects and the rest of the year to get ready for the next one.

A Christmas Truth. At Christmas the small boy will love the giver without any regard to his being cheerful or grouchy.

COMPLIMENTS

The Jeffersonian Very Highly.

News From Wilsonville—F. E. Osborne III—Cow Falls in Well—Personals.

Wilsonville, Jan. 30.—Since sending in our last communication the scene about us wears a different aspect and instead of the beautiful mantle of snow, which seemed to act as a covering to shield and protect the winter grain, herbage, etc. from the extreme cold weather we were to behold "old mother earth" clothed in a more somber but still revealing her many beauties and defects. A few remnants of snow occasionally greet the eye, reminding us of what has been, while a tint of green here and there adds strangeness to the scene, which, if we pause to think, is only one of the many strange things which are constantly being revealed to us in one way or another, but never understood.

An Appreciated Compliment.

It gives us great pleasure to relate to the readers of The Jeffersonian a few remarks, which were made today by two ladies in regard to our county paper, in speaking of the paper one of the ladies inquired of the other if she had seen The Jeffersonian, and receiving an answer in the affirmative, remarked that she liked it very much. The other lady, whose husband is a subscriber, agreed with her immediately and added the sentence by saying, "It is the best county paper I ever saw." Will not disfigure their names, as we are not allowed to tell tales out of school, but will simply say that both ladies are non-residents of the county, a fact, which in itself makes the compliment of intrinsic value and worthiness of mention.

Birthday Remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Bud McDonald and Mrs. Dean Miller spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Irvine McKinley and Mr. J. T. McKinley, it being the birthday of the latter's daughter, the latter's daughter, who has served continuously as secretary since its organization in 1892. In a very eloquent address Hon. L. C. Griggs, past master of the lodge presented the picture on behalf of Mr. Smith to the members of the lodge, who received it with enthusiastic applause and appreciation, and placed it upon the walls of the lodge room to remain as a monument of the faithful work done by this venerable brother.

Mr. McKinley served as secretary of Philip Swigert Lodge No. 218, at Fairbairn, Minn., for three years previous to the organization of the lodge at this place, when he was elected secretary here and has held this office ever since. He has been faithful and true to the trusts placed upon him, and is loved and respected by every member of the lodge.

WILSON CERTAIN OF NOMINATION

Montana Newspaper Hails Him
as the Standard Bearer of the Democratic Party.

PROGRESSIVE AND ABLE MAN

True Patriot and Morally and Intellectually Fit for the High Position to Which He is Reasonably Sure of Election.

Helena (Mont.) Independent.—The people will name the democratic party's candidate for the presidency.
In the next democratic convention
there will be no boss whose voice will be heard above the rallying cry of real popular sovereignty; there will be no machine which will interfere with the registering of the people's will.

From Maine to California, from Minnesota to Texas, the delegates who will assemble to name the party's standard-bearer in the next campaign, will come with but one purpose in view—to restore real democratic government to power in the nation's capitol.

In view of this situation, a situation which is most encouraging to the party, it is possible now to forecast
the result of the democratic convention, and that forecast points unerringly to the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, former president of Princeton university, and governor of New Jersey, for the highest office within the right of any people.

The democratic candidate must be a progressive. Such a man is Woodrow Wilson, whose record in New Jersey has stamped him as one of the most progressive men in public life.
The democratic candidate for the presidency must be unaffiliated and free from all influence of political bosses.
Such a man is Woodrow Wilson, who,
in his own state, unhorsed a political dictator whose power no one before had shaken.

People Have Faith in Him.
The democratic candidate for the presidency must be essentially democratic. Such a man is Woodrow Wilson, whose political ascendancy has been accomplished only by reason of the faith the people have in him, and who will carry into the high office no secret bargains with those who manipulate politics for private ends.

The democratic candidate must be morally and intellectually fit for the place. Such a man is Woodrow Wilson, whose training and experience have given him the ability to give to the great problems of the day an integrity above question and a mental capacity and a knowledge of public affairs which has proved itself to have been excelled in an executive office
since the days of Jefferson.

In Woodrow Wilson, there is ample evidence of America's ability to develop in each crisis in the nation's affairs a man who is equal to the emergencies of the time. Washington appeared on the scene when the dissatisfied colonies needed a strong man and a military genius to lead them to national independence. Jefferson came when the new democracy needed a man to take the reins of the government from the hands of an embryo nation and restore it to its true place in the American government. Lincoln came when the union was about to break upon the rocks of domestic strife.

The Man for the Occasion.

And now, when greater problems than those which confronted Washington and Jefferson and Jackson and Lincoln demand courage and ability of almost superhuman character;
when from the length and breadth of the land there goes up, as in 1860, the prayer, "God give us a man," history plutocracy is enthroned in high places and when the life blood of the country is being sucked by the vampire of big business; when greed and avarice have been substituted for patriotism and justice; when sporadic and half-hearted attempts to resist existing wrong do only aggravate them; when the nation demands again the genius of a Washington, the faith in the people of a Jefferson, the courage of a Jackson and the sublime patriotism of a Lincoln—at such a time as this it is like watching the hand of a benefi-cent destiny to see Woodrow Wilson loom large on the scene of national politics.

Not only the Democratic party, but the nation too, is blessed that such a man is available for the presidency.

Let George Do It.

Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, while campaigning strenuously in the interests of the Democratic candidates, came to a small hotel in Saxton, in the northern section of the State.

The waiter handed the presidential possibility the menu card, but the Governor, tired from the day's campaigning, pushed it away and said:
"Now George, I don't want to bother you with that. Take it away and get out and get me a good dinner. Get the best you have, that's all."

The waiter brought in the dinner which the Governor ate. As he was leaving the dining room the waiter said: "Mistah Wilson, if any of your friends from down at Princeton want can't read neither how up this way you jest and 'em to eat right 'n I'll gake care of 'em all right."

CONFIDENCE IN TAFT LOST

Renomination of Present Chief Executive Will Mean That Progressive Republicans Will Turn to New Jersey Statesman.

BY HON. FRANK G. CANNON, Former United States Senator From Utah.

I have traveled in ten states since leaving Colorado a month ago. The cry of the Progressives in these states
—Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebr-
ska, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and even Missouri—is for LaFollette and Wilson. The Progressive Democrats want the Republican party to nominate Robert A.
LaFollette for the presidency; so that —if the Democratic party shall lose
—the People will win.

And Progressive Republicans want
the Democratic party to nominate Woodrow Wilson; so that—if the Republican party shall lose—still the People will win.

You will observe that the Progressive Dove has at last learned wisdom from that wily old Serpent, the System, whose favorite plan has been to select both candidates, subscribe to both campaigns, fork and then let the People in deadly earnest, fight
a useless battle.

Personally, I fear that the Progressive has not learned wisdom from that wily old Serpent, the System.

Republicans Playing Politics.
The office-holding machine is powerful, insidious and experienced. The interests are desperately determined to prevent a LaFollette term in the White House; and their financial aid makes the machine almost irresistible.
Frankly, I do not believe in this talk of a fatal breach between President Taft and Big Business. On both sides it looks like a calculated quarrel, a melodrama played for national entertainment. The need of such an excitation of hate is obvious.

Despite his earnest work, the people had no faith that President Taft would solve our vital problem and restore the government to the custody of the people. A play was needed.
It is being played.

But there remains Wilson, whose democratic by the democratic convention can only be prevented by insanity or perjury—or both. Other candidates there are; they have elsewhere advocated. But the Progressive Republicans—as well as the mass of Democrats—want Wilson nominated;
and it is the Progressive Republicans whose votes will decide the issue.

If Taft shall be the Republican nominee, Progressives of his party would turn almost en masse to Wilson—and Wilson is the only possible Democratic nominee to whom they would thus turn. They will not leave Taft in order to vote for any Democratic ally of the interests. They will not desert their own party to censure any unhappily experiment with the other.
They want to preserve their self-respect and at the same time perform a high public service.

Wilson's Faith in Publicity.

At all times and places, says a writer in Success, Woodrow Wilson has counseled opening our governmental processes to the light. Thus at Minneapolis:

"Every community is vaguely aware of the political machine upon which it looks askance has certain very definite connections with men who are engaged in business on a large scale, and the machine which attaches to the machine itself has begun to attach also to business enterprise just because these connections are known to exist. If these connections were open and avowed, if everybody knew just what they involved and just what use was being made of the alliance there would be no difficulty in keeping an eye upon affairs and in controlling them by public opinion. But unfortunately, the whole process of law-making in America is a very obscure one. There is no highway of "glitch," but there are many byways."

At another time he said this humorous tribute to publicity:
"There is one very disturbing quality in man, and I have experienced it myself and I dare say you have.
When you are a long way from home and see no neighbor near you, you home you give yourself an extraordinary latitude in your conduct, but if you were on the desert of Sahara and met one of your immediate neighbors coming the other way on a camel, you wouldn't behave yourself until he got out of sight."

Reaching the Root.

"Radical" means "rootical" and these laws merely got at the root of the things. We supposed we were electing our public officials. We were electing them, but were not selecting them. Certain gentlemen in private office were making up the states and then permitting the people to elect to the mere form of a voice in the selection of men I shall advocate. What is "radical"? Why, merely giving back to the communities of New Jersey
what they supposed they had all along.—WOODROW WILSON.

row Wilson is Almost Unanimous Choice for President.

GROWS STRONGER EVERY DAY

Democratic Party Has Opportunity of Signaling its Return to Power
With the Election of an Ideal Chief Executive.

Significant Missouri Comment.
Independence (Mo.) Examiner.—The Clinton Democrat remarks: "Many Missourians would be glad to see Champ Clark President; others would prefer Jos. W. Folk; but if the nomination has to leave this State nine out of ten Missouri Democrats would prefer Gov. Woodrow Wilson. This is very significant."

Sincere Purpose Apparent.

Raleigh (N. C.) News-Observers.—
When you read a New York paper complimenting some Southern man or Stunt for "Conservatism" in the same article that it opposes Woodrow Wilson, it may be well to look and see to what party and business interest the aforesaid paper belongs.

Michigan for Wilson.

Marquette (Mich.) Minn. Journal.—
The New Jersey candidate has a big following among the Democrats of Michigan and stands a good chance of having the Wolverine delegation in the National convention raised behind his banner.

Wisconsin Seeing the Light.

Milwaukee (Wis.) Journal.—Just go ahead and nominate Taft, with Wilson the opposing candidate, and see what happens to the Grand Old Party right here in Wisconsin. Taft is the worst grade-crossing horror that ever happened north of Neenah.

See Wilson as Next President.

Roswell (N. M.) Record.—The Republican newspapers are afraid of Woodrow Wilson for 1912 and their fear is made manifest in a variety of ways. Since the election of last week when New Jersey did not do so well as it might have done, these papers have taken occasion to review their attacks on Wilson. They nevertheless, Woodrow Wilson will be elected president of the United States next year.

His Worth Recognized.

Long Branch (N. J.) Record.—Pictures of great men adorn the editorial sanctum of Editor H. P. Bennett at the Press office. There you will find photos of statesmen of the past present and future. Governor Wilson, of course, is in the limelight.
Instead of putting Wilson's name under the portrait he has placed there these words: "A Man."

General Trend Toward Wilson.

Wilder (Ga.) News.—According to the sentiment of the country, as shown by interviews in newspapers as well as editorials, the trend toward the nomination of Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, for the presidency is growing stronger every day.

They Are Afraid of Him.

Ottawa (Kan.) Republican.—It is a significant fact that the Taft newspapers all have a special attitude for Woodrow Wilson. They make a prominent display of every item of news that seems to favor any other candidate for the Democratic nomination. Wonder why?

Wilson Boom Overshadows All.

Boston (Mass.) Traveler.—The Woodrow Wilson boom nowadays is making several other presidential declamations sound like muffled poptons.

Would Draw From Republicans.

Fresno (Cal.) Herald.—The nomination of a man like Woodrow Wilson on the Democratic ticket will bring to its support all the really progressive strength of the Republican party.

People for Wilson.

Huntsville (Ala.) Times.—Woodrow Wilson is the most favorably talked of presidential candidate in the run-ing. This is because the people are for him.

Highest Type of Democrat.

Houston (Tex.) Chronicle.—Signs are multiplying on every side that Woodrow Wilson is the best man for the Democrats to put up, because he is the highest type of Democrat, an American of the character and caliber of the country's elder statesmen whose names illuminate the pages of our history.

Appeals to Thinking People.

Springfield (Vt.) Reporter.—Governor Woodrow Wilson recently said in a public address: "The immediate thing we have got to do is to resume popular government." Irrespective of past party affiliations, or party prospects, this is a pronouncement that will appeal strongly to a great many thinking people. It is one that the Republican leaders in Vermont and elsewhere are afraid to ignore.

And He Has Something to Say.

Knoxville (Tenn.) Sentinel.—An exchange is perturbed with fear that Woodrow Wilson may talk too much about the meaning of this thing is that it is wiser for a candidate to whisper his attitude to the trusts than to talk the public into his conscience. However, we can see no objection to public discussion so long as one has anything to say.

S. L. RHEA, of Fisherville, made a good showing at the Louisville Poultry show last week. In the Narragansett turkey class he won every thing except cock.

BAD HAY that they had eaten caused the death of a drove of mules near Hickman, according to the diagnosis of a veterinary surgeon from Louisville, Ky., who was called to examine the stock.

DOGS KILLED two sheep and wounded several others last Friday about noon for W. B. Paris, who resides near the Rountt road beyond Blue Rock Hotel. Three or four of the injured sheep, it is said, will die.

ESQ. CHAS. C. WHEELER, of Ruechel, is rapidly coming to the front as an auctioneer of fine hogs. He assisted Col. Igleheart in the recent sales of Harris & Daniel, McKee Bros. and R. J. H. Spurr. Mr. Wheeler has dates for several other large sales, also.

MRS. A. S. SPARKS, of Fern Creek, who is a leader when it comes to fine chickens, was complimented very highly upon having an exhibition at the Louisville Poultry Show last week that attracted the attention of all visitors. The display showed a chicken "from the shell to the show room."

IN HARRIS & DANIEL'S Duroc Jersey hog sale at Louisville January 18th, there were some fine individuals offered and they brought good prices, the average being over $50 per head. The top price was $96, paid for a son of Zeina 34th. She went to Geo. O. Barclay, of Indiana. S. R. Ewing, of St. Matthews, bought two nice individuals for $95 and $20 each. A. H. Hite, of Lyndon, also purchased a good one for $50.

A GOOD MANY farmers have colts or young horses now which they will want for work next spring, or possibly to sell. A well-bred young horse is worth from $25 to $50 more than one not broken, as anyone will testify who has broken a wild one. The time to begin to break the young horse for next spring's service is now and all through the winter, doing the work so gradually and easily that the colt will never know just when the process took place. All animals, including man, are creatures of habit and learn very slowly—much slower than we think. You cannot expect the young horse to move off in the harness like an old horse, because it has not yet learned what all the new things mean. It must learn all of them one by one, and a little at a time.—Farmer's Home Journal.

AN EVIDENCE of the growing popularity of the draft horse in Kentucky is the fact that one local agent for Bridges & Flora, of Crawfordsville, Ind., has sold three stallions recently within a radius of 10 miles in Shelby and Spencer counties, Ky. The agent referred to is David Orr, of Finchville, Ky. He sold one corking good three-year-old, a handsome gray, to R. H. Snyder, Rice Henry and Thompson Bros., at $1,000. These gentlemen live near Little Mount. Another three-year-old gray, weighing 1,800 pounds was purchased by J. T. Myer, of near Wakefield Station, at $1,800. Mr. Orr sold another, a six-year-old gray to C. W. Jones and Co., of Finchville, Ky., at $1,600. Mr. Orr has gone to Crawfordsville, Ind., to make arrangements to ship several carloads of the south and south-west.—Farmers Home Journal.

OVER 200 HORNS and mules have succumbed to a disease that is known in the medical world as cryptic poisoning during the past six weeks, and the farmers in Davies and the surrounding counties are becoming alarmed at the present situation. The disease is a very fatal one, and farmers are unable to stop the poisoning as the corn on the surface appears to be of high-class variety, but on the inside of the kernel is a little black substance which causes the poisoning. The horse affected acts as crazy, and in many cases the farmer pays no attention to the funny action of the horse until it is too late to cure the animal. After three or four hours of intense suffering the horse dies. In Henderson county the farmers are also losing their horses, and in one case one farmer lost three valuable horses in one day. Dr. Hendri, a local veterinary surgeon, during the past six weeks, has had numerous calls to give medical aid to the horses affected by this strange disease, and he is at a loss to give the farmers any statement as to how to detect the faulty corn.—Glasgow Times.

SOAK STALE bread in sweet skim-milk, press out the milk as completely as possible, and feed the chicks. Also keep coarse feed before them without it the chicks can get it without it. Put some oats in a box that will not leak; wet them thoroughly with warm water, cover them well, let them stand one whole day, then turn them into a box, that does leak. Keep putting warm water on them morning and night till sprouts are well started. Spread them out thinly, moisten more, and keep this till the sprouts are the required length. Some folks let them grow a foot long. No finer feed for birds than oat sprouts. Hens will soon be bringing good prices, and the high price will tempt many farmers to sell their eggs as a sample to you. It will pay the average farmer to keep a good number of hens the year around. When hatching time comes, if incubators and brooders are not on hand, it is better to get a few dozen of hatching and rearing the chicks, and we like to have enough others to keep the egg-basket filled. Eggs to sell every week means a small bill at the grocery. Can't I have the eggs unless we hold on to enough hens.—From February FAIRMOUNT.

BEFORE PLANTING any large quantity of small grain, grass or clover seed, it is well to make a soil state experiment station for examination. The seeds of many noxious plants are to be found in impure and unreliable seeds. It is far easier to do this than to eradicate some pestiferous weed that obtains a firm foothold on your farm. Early rhubarb can be grown in any ordinary cellar, thus: When a thaw comes dig up one or more rhubarb clumps from the garden, with considerable soil clinging to the roots, and put them on the cellar floor; the warmer the cellar, the sooner growth will begin. Give them a little water occasionally and salt results. This will seem to be necessary, for the stalks grow all right in even a dark place. The party who appeals to the courts for redress is not always in the right. He is prejudiced in his own favor; and besides, his temper will not allow him to reason as he should. The decision of the court for the defendant, with costs, does not in the least alter his own opinion, then or hereafter. He feels that he has been wronged. Going to law for fancied wrongs, and expecting there to find redress, is an expensive luxury. See a mouse and catch a rat.

Thousands of dollars are wasted in commercial fertilizer every year, not because the fertilizer is bad, but right, but because we do not know whether the kind we use is the kind our land needs. It is a great study and one that we must make for ourselves. Make some simple experiments this year. Put in a strip with the fertilizer you have been in the habit of using, and just beside it another without it. This will be worth a great deal more to you than the opinion of some interested agent.—Farm Journal.

From China To The United States.

Missionaries Flee on Account Of Revolution—Miss Malott To Japan.

The Jeffersonian is in receipt of a communication from Rev. Wm. U. Nowack, now at Watertown, Wis., in which he informs us that our papers addressed to Miss Drusie R. Malott Yang Hsien, Honan Province, China, were returned from China to him at Watertown. Miss Malott, who is a Jefferson county girl, is a missionary to China, and has written several letters for The Jeffersonian. In his letter to The Jeffersonian Mr. Nowack said the last he had heard of Miss Malott she was on her way to Japan, and would probably write us when she gets settled.

Mr. Nowack was a member of the same mission (Ebenzer) as Miss Malott in China, but returned and reached Watertown, Wis., on December 27, 1911. He published a pamphlet describing why he left China and something of the trouble over there. In his letter to The Jeffersonian Mr. Nowack said the last he had heard of Miss Malott she was on her way to Japan, and would probably write us when she gets settled.

It may be of interest to many of our readers to give something of the exodus from China of the Ebenezer missionaries, Wm. H. and K. P. Nowack, which we take from the circular sent us. It seems that Providence was looking after their interests, for two weeks before the rumors of the revolution reached Pi Yang Mr. Nowack awoke very early one morning with an unusual sense of the Lord's presence when he recalled to him in a very clear and unmistakable way that they were soon to return home to America. The need of a furlough in the interests of the Pi Yang work had been upon their minds for some time, as both funds and workers were inadequate to meet the demands of the growing work. Mr. Nowack related the matter to his wife and family, but little realizing that in less than a month they would be on their way bound for America.

Two weeks later came the rumors of the revolution and events that showed plainly that the only thing they could do was to leave. The following is taken from the letter written of the exodus by Mr. Nowack:

"On Sunday, Oct. 29, came a small lot of Chinese mail from the north, the first in two weeks. It contained our Chinese weekly, with considerable news regarding the progress of the revolution, a postal from a friend stating that the American Consul had ordered all women and children to leave the interior, with the hope that we had already complied; and a providentially missed letter from the American Legation at Peking which, under the peculiar circumstances, we felt led to open, found it corroborating the facts stated in the others, and containing free railroad passes as far as the Yellow river for the lady members of the station to which it was addressed. On Tuesday morning bright and early all except the writer were on their way to the railroad with barely enough cash to pay off their coolies and chair bearers, a small draft with a bit of other change as a resource for further expedition, and as little clothing and baggage as possible, the rumors of robbers being such that it seemed unwise to take any more, as they might be deprived of even that little before the end of the journey, (some of the missionaries coming overland) were robbed of all they had, including even the clothes they wore." The Lord was gracious, however, and granted our little party a prosperous journey, while the Pi Yang church and their pastor were uniting in special prayer for their protection. When they had gone about half way, they felt very definitely led to go to Kio Shan, our regular railroad station, instead of to Chu Ma Tien, the place for which they had started out, receiving a hearty welcome from our dear Lutheran friends, who were also in great perplexity of mind and glad for the conference and fellowship of their Pi Yang neighbors.

"I received a message from Mrs. Nowack stating that the friends at Kio Shan had voluntarily offered to loan us 450 Tls (something less than $300.00 gold) to take a furlough, if we felt led to take it, without any limitation on her part to that effect, and that they all felt impressed that being situated as we were it would be the best thing we could do. She also added that rumors were growing worse and that if we intended to take advantage of their kind proposition there was no time to lose. The amount offered, with several small checks, which came with the foreign mail (the first one in four weeks) just a day or two before, was sufficient to purchase steamer passage for the family from Tientsin to San Francisco and would allow a small balance for a few articles of the most necessary clothing and incidentals.

"At two o'clock that same afternoon after commencing once more the little heart from all that was dear to us in our beloved Pi Yang to 'Him who is able to keep,' I was on my way to Kio Shan, where I arrived at 4 p. m. the next day, walking 180 li (60 miles) in one day and two hours, breaking all my previous walking records. Fortunately, or providentially, rather, the American Consul from Hankow had just brought a supply of silver dollars (the only currency acceptable on the railroad) to the treasurer of this Lutheran Mission, of which we were offered 30 for our fare to Tientsin, so that after a brief stay of only two days, we were able to continue our journey by rail. The men who brought such a trunk overland after I received Mrs. Nowack's letter were robbed on the way, but, strange to say, the trunks were left unharmed. I suppose the Lord knew how badly we needed them, and that we had no money to buy others.

"The only problem which was still facing us before leaving was that of funds for the workers, but this too was solved by the faithfulness of our God, so that we were able to leave them with about three months' wages in sight, and some on hand, and the promise of sending them more as soon as we arrived in America, providing it would be possible to do so.

"Sisters Taylor and Malott remained with the friends at Kio Shan to await the Lord's further leading to their course. We have not been able to hear from them since, so do not know where they are at present.

"On November 19th we took a small steamer for Kobe Japan where we landed a week later. Before arriving in this island strategic city where we did not know a single soul, native or foreign, we asked the Lord to again fulfill his promise, (Jno. 10:4) and send someone to the wharf who would be able to give us some information regarding the most stopping place during our sojourn there, since we were not financially able to stay at a hotel. Our prayer was answered, and, strange to say, He used a hotel-keeper to do it, who not only gave us, desired information, but took us to his hotel, baggage and all, from whence he directed us to the Methodist Mission located in his immediate vicinity, and even paid our expenses from the docks to his hotel. The dear friends of the M. E. Mission received us most kindly, and after learning about our situation, offered us a room in their missionary receiving home, which we enjoyed most thoroughly during our week of tossing, and all that goes with it, on the Yellow Sea.

"On December 2nd we boarded the steamship, 'Manchuria' (one of the largest boats on the Pacific) for San Francisco, stopping at Yokohama and Honolulu along the way. It went somewhat 'against our grain' to travel steamer while all the other missionaries on board were going to the States by land, and we could comfort ourselves with the fact that many dear missionaries had traveled under far greater difficulties and disadvantages than we, and rejoice in knowing that we were going to escape about $200.00 for the Lord's cause in so short a time and at so small a sacrifice.

"The joyful sensation which filled our hearts as the distant hills of our native land came into view, and when a little later, we sailed through the beautiful Golden Gate, is hard to describe, notwithstanding the fact that we only had but several dollars and little more than one change of raiment to piece to land with.

"And now just a few lines regarding our furor here in the home-land. We feel confident that it is of His own appointing, and that at present we will be able to do more for the work by being here than we could by being on the field, even had the situation been less desperate. When we left the compound was almost deserted, everybody except our own little flock, the majority of our people perhaps fearing a reputation of the Boxer troubles, the last parties, Revolutionists and Imperialists promised protection to the foreigner and his cause. Everybody was absorbed with the Revolution, and this state of affairs may continue until the great question is settled, when the gospel will, I believe, have a more effective door in China than it has ever known before, and the great gathering of souls for which all earnest missionaries have been laboring and praying will be realized."

FERN CREEK.

What Has Happened at End of Bardstown Road Electric Line.

Fern Creek, Jan. 28.—One of the prominent social events of the week was a party given Saturday night, Jan. 27, by Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Sea. held in honor of his thirty-second birthday anniversary. Games and other amusing features were engaged in and a good time was had by all present. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were too numerous to mention personally.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Decker delightfully entertained quite a number of young people Friday evening. All present were charmingly entertained and wish to meet with them again soon.

Miss Edith Wheeler was the charming hostess at a party given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wheeler, Thursday evening. All that were present reported having had a delightful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams entertained at dinner Sunday Misses May Jones, Margaret and Ellen Willard, Messrs. Fred Schmitt, Ben Williams and Will Frolic, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Groves spent Saturday in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Wheeler spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Pierson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Bates visited Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Johnson and family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Grady in Oklahoma.

Misses Blanche Thomas and Lizzy Smith were the week-end guests of Miss Gertrude Howard.

Misses Lillian Jenne and Charlotte Howell were the charming guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ragland.

Mrs. Edna Jones, Mrs. Nannie Wheeler and Collins and Grace Collins were the guests of Mrs. Sallie Wheeler.

Miss Stella McKeag spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Sallie McKeag.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hawes.

Messrs. Ben and Ernest Tyler have gone to Lexington to attend school. Little Miss Almira Bates is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Risinger.

Mrs. Sallie Bohannon and daughter, Miss Iva, of Louisville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Seabolt this week.

Mr. Herbert King, of Campbellsburg visited Mrs. Taylor King last week; while her father visited Mrs. William Farmer near Fairmount several days, and called on several other friends.

Mrs. Henry Berry was hastily called last week to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Emma Sheers, of Louisville who is seriously ill with tuberculosis.

Mr. Jas. Beard has been visiting his father in Lyons, Ky.

Miss Harvey Gentry who has been staying in Louisville for some time has returned home.

The many friends of Miss Ethel Gentry are sorry to hear that she is confined to her room again.

Mrs. J. B. Ried, Mrs. Jesse Bates, Mrs. Willie Bohannon and Mr. Chas. Seibert are on the sick list this week.

Almost Lost His Life.

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Entertained.

Fairfax. All report a good time.

BETTER SYSTEM

Of Agriculture Is Needed In Kentucky Under Present Conditions.

Every one has come to realize the importance of a better system of Agriculture in Kentucky. We all know that the soils of the state are now in a worse condition than they were a generation ago. Likewise the increase in population has necessarily made the size of the farms smaller. Under these conditions a definite problem presents itself quite clearly, namely, that we must be content to live on less than our fathers did produce more. The latter is clearly the only course to pursue; the question is, how to go about it. During the last two or three years the College of Agriculture at Lexington has conducted a small number of agricultural clubs with the most gratifying results. Heretofore the work has necessarily been quite limited on account of lack of men and money and, for that matter, the same condition still exists, however, on account of the excellent results obtained, a greater effort will be made this season to forward this work.

An agricultural club usually does the best work when in connection with some school or is under the supervision of the county school superintendent, though this is not necessarily the case.

Heretofore the clubs have often been called Corn Clubs and have confined their efforts to corn raising. During the coming season the plan is to expand the work to cover a variety of farm activities such as corn, in yield and profit contests; potato raising in similar tests, testing and keeping records of dairy cows, buttermaking, breadmaking, sewing, gardening and forestry. In an article of this length it is impossible to go into any details, however, we want to say that all these activities are to lead to the young peoples department of the state show at the Agricultural College next January. Assistance will be given from time to time; experts from the college will visit the clubs and a limited amount of apparatus will be loaned for the use of the members. Detailed instructions will be given in regard to all lines of work undertaken.

There are numerous benefits that will be gotten by boys and girls as well as by teachers who get in touch with the Extension Service of the University. The prize lists offered at the annual Farm Products Exhibition contain valuable premiums and as the work develops, other attractive features will be added, such for instance as free trips to the State Fair, available to boys and girls in each of the counties.

The Agricultural College invites correspondence in regard to this work. T. R. BAY, Supt. Extension Division, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.

WORTHINGTON.

Jan. 29.—Mrs. S. S. Mount, of Prospect, spent Wednesday with Miss Alberta Netherton.

Mrs. Oliver Brown and daughter, Miss Irene, of Crescent Hill, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell, Sr.

Mr. Arch Brinley, of Middletown, was the guest last Thursday of S. L. Maddox and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Garwood visited relatives in Louisville last Thursday. Miss May Belcher was the week-end visitor at her home in South Louisville.

Messrs. Cleveland Harris, of near Jeffersontown, and Chenoweth Young spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Maddox.

Mrs. Ida Smith and Miss Annie Bright spent Wednesday in Louisville.

Misses Leola Maddox and Newton Miller were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Henry Mitchell.

Mrs. T. L. Ellwanger spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burger, whose infant daughter, Sadie Laird, has been very ill.

Mrs. E. W. Maddox and family spent Thursday with W. H. Herr and family, to be with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Young and family, of Montgomery, Ala., who were here a week's visit.

There has been quite a lot of sickness around here, but think everyone is better at this writing. Hope next time to do better with news, as maybe the weather will permit some running around visiting.

Personal Notes.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Jess Brunner, a fine big boy. Goldie Shadborn entertained last Sunday Mr. Heubert Campbell, from Veeddale.
